

The background of the image is a lush tropical scene. It features several large, vibrant green banana leaves with prominent veins, creating a layered, organic texture. Two leis are visible: one on the left and one on the right. Each lei consists of a long strand of small, white, spherical beads, likely shells or pearls, which transition into a cluster of bright pink, star-shaped flowers at the bottom. The lighting is soft and directional, casting gentle shadows and highlighting the textures of the leaves and flowers.
